Description:

After the death of her beloved father, Cinderella is left alone with her wicked step-mother and her daughters. From now on, she leads a lonely life as their maid.

One day she is visited by a traveler - not knowing that this is a good fairy. Impressed by the beautiful and helpful Cinderella, the good fairy makes it possible that Cinderella takes part in the royal ball dressed as a princess. Prince Edward and Cinderella fall instantly in love.

Life would be so nice – if it have not be for policy. The prince must be to marry a real princess, to secure peace for his country.

Cinderella is forced by the king to leave the country and make free the way for a political marriage.

There love seems hopeless – if it have not be for the good fairy ...
